Why are #ifndef and #define used in C++ header files? I have been seeing code like this usually in the start of header files: #ifndef HEADERFILE_H #define HEADERFILE_H And at the end of the file is #endif What is the purpose of this? Why do most C developers use define instead of const? Mar 4, 2017 · In many programs, a #define serves the same purpose as a constant. For example. #define FIELD_WIDTH 10 const int fieldWidth = 10; I commonly see the first form preferred over the other, relying o... How do I define a function with optional arguments? How do I define a function with optional arguments? A good way to understand what the preprocessor does to your code is to get hold of the preprocessed output and look at it. c# - Solution-wide #define - Stack Overflow Mar 1, 2011 · 5 I don't think there is a way to create a solution-wide #define. You can create one for each project/assembly, as the other answers have described, but you'll need to do this for each and every project in the solution if you need all source code files to know of that #define. What is the purpose of the #define directive in C++? May 10, 2010 · 0 In C or C++ #define allows you to create preprocessor Macros. In the normal C or C++ build process the first thing that happens is that the PreProcessor runs, the preprocessor looks though the source files for preprocessor directives like #define or #include and then performs simple operations with them. How do I show the value of a #define at compile-time? I know that this is a long time after the original query, but this may still be useful. This can be done in GCC using the stringify operator "#", but it requires two additional stages to be defined first. #define XSTR(x) STR(x) #define STR(x) #x The value of a macro can then be displayed with: #pragma message "The value of ABC: " XSTR(ABC) See: 3.4 Stringification in the gcc online ... Is there a way to do a #define inside of another #define? You could for example do an ifdef guard to initialize a variable in a macro but make sure it isn't declared twice. I'm sure there are other possible use cases. Besides, it's normal to give simplified examples when asking theoretical questions. Pointing out there's a different way is kind of pointless for this kind of question. Is it possible to use a if statement inside #define? You'll need to complete a few actions and gain 15 reputation points before being able to upvote.
