Criminal Femmes Fatales in American Hardboiled Crime Fiction Maysaa Husam Jaber, 2016-02-02 This book fills a gap in both literary and feminist scholarship by offering the first major study of femme fatales in hardboiled crime fiction. Maysaa Jaber shows that the criminal literary figures in the genre open up powerful spaces for imagining female agency in direct opposition to the constraining forces of patriarchy and misogyny.

Disclosures of a Femme Fatale Addict Clive Radford, Want to know how a young man's mind works? Though an exponent of the short-term love affair, young cavaliering cavorter Colby Richmond finds during his quest to notch up conquests, he experiences unexpected feelings for his girlfriends, but refrains from using the L word until bewitching beauty Wendy Jones enters his life. Richmond has a penchant for gorgeous femme fatales who dress provocatively to show off their assets. Wendy becomes his ideal, his goal to make her his long-term mate. But all is not well. Outside his self-made, good times universe, Richmond comes face to face with the stark realities of the actual world. His rose-tinted glasses removed, he realizes his future plans can be derailed by circumstances beyond his control, concluding, who knows what tomorrow might bring.

Descended from Hercules Robert A. Rushing, 2016-10-15 Muscles, six-pack abs, skin, and sweat fill the screen in the tawdry and tantalizing peplum films associated with epic Italian cinema of the 1950s and 1960s. Using techniques like slow motion and stopped time, these films instill the hero's vitality with timeless admiration and immerse the hero's body in a world that is lavishly eroticized but without sexual desire. These sword and sandal films represent a century-long cinematic biopolitical intervention that offers the spectator an imagined form of the male body—one free of illness, degeneracy, and the burdens of poverty—that defends goodness with brute strength and perseverance, and serves as a model of ideal citizenry. Robert A. Rushing traces these epic heroes from Maciste in Cabiria in the early silent era to contemporary transnational figures like Arnold Schwarzenegger in Conan the Barbarian, and to films such as Zach Snyder's 300. Rushing explores how the very tactile modes of representation cement the genre's ideological grip on the viewer.

Killing the Indian Maiden M. Elise Marubbio, 2006-12-15 Killing the Indian Maiden examines the fascinating and often disturbing portrayal of Native American women in film. Through discussion of thirty-four Hollywood films from the silent period to the present, M. Elise Marubbio examines the sacrificial role of what she terms the Celluloid Maiden—a young Native woman who allies herself with a white male hero and dies as a result of that choice. Marubbio intertwines theories of colonization, gender, race, and film studies to ground her study in sociohistorical context all in an attempt to define what it means to be an American. As Marubbio charts the consistent depiction of the Celluloid Maiden, she uncovers two primary characterizations—the Celluloid Princess and the Sexualized Maiden. The archetype for the exotic Celluloid Princess appears in silent films such as Cecil B. DeMille's The Squaw Man (1914) and is thoroughly established in American iconography in Delmer Daves's Broken Arrow (1950). Her more erotic sister, the Sexualized Maiden, emerges as a femme fatale in such films as DeMille's North West Mounted Police (1940), King Vidor's Duel in the Sun (1946), and Charles Warren's Arrowhead (1953). The two characterizations eventually combine to form a hybrid Celluloid Maiden who first appears in John Ford's The Searchers (1956) and reappears in the 1970s and the 1990s in such films as Arthur Penn's Little Big Man (1970) and Michael Apted's Thunderheart (1992). Killing the Indian Maiden reveals a cultural iconography about Native Americans and their role in the frontier embedded in the American psyche. The Native American woman is a racialized and sexualized other—a conquerable body representing both the seductions and the dangers of the frontier. These films show her being colonized and suffering at the hands of Manifest Destiny and American expansionism, but Marubbio argues that the Native American woman also represents a threat to the idea of a white America. The complexity and longevity of the Celluloid Maiden icon—persisting into the twenty-first century—symbolizes an identity crisis about the composition of the American national body that has played over and over throughout different eras and political climates. Ultimately, Marubbio establishes that the ongoing representation of the Celluloid Maiden signals the continuing development and justification of American colonialism.

John Dahl and Neo-Noir Paul Monaco, 2010-03-18 In John Dahl and Neo-Noir: Examining Auteurism and Genre, Paul Monaco provides a focused inquiry into the first three feature films that director John Dahl made for theatrical release: Kill Me Again (1989), Red Rock West (1993), and The Last Seduction (1994). Subsequent to their releases, these three films became identified in academic film criticism as neo-noir, and Dahl was labeled a noir-meister who made a cottage industry of neo-noir. The importance of these three films, and Monaco's investigation of them, is how they illuminate a modern director's creative process in relation to an emerging genre. Dahl is rightly recognized for his directorial vision and his creative style. His approach to film direction, and his distinctiveness of vision, is thoroughly explored in the book. Using interviews with the professionals with whom Dahl has worked closely, Monaco also explores basic notions about auteurism and how genre is defined. Considering Dahl's extensive directing for television alongside his first three films, John Dahl and Neo-Noir ultimately demonstrates how this groundbreaking director is a prime example of a modern director for hire.

Een nieuw geluid Gillis Dorleijn,Wiljan van den Akker,2025-04-24 Van Kloos, Gorter en Henriette Roland Holst, via A. Roland Holst, Bloem en Nijhoff tot Marsman, Engelman en Vasalis Rond 1900 ontstaat een nieuwe poëzie en vooral een nieuw idee van poëzie. Dan komt de Beweging van Tachtig in de mode en spannen dichters, critici en essayisten zich in zich de moderne dichtprincipes eigen te maken en naar hun hand te zetten. Uitgevers, publiekstijdschriften en het literatuuronderwijs zijn drukdoende die nieuwe creaties en opvattingen te verspreiden. Zo ontstaat er een eigen literaire ruimte waarin de moderne poëzie bloeit en groeit, begeleid door talrijke, vaak felle debatten: over autonomie tegenover engagement, de (on)mogelijkheid van socialistische of christelijke poëzie, de wens eeuwige artistieke waarden te behouden en tegelijk radicaal te vernieuwen. Hoe autonoom ook, de poëzie en de literaire wereld zijn continu onderhevig aan gebeurtenissen en ideeën uit de buitenwereld: de Eerste Wereldoorlog, de dreiging van een volgende, in de maatschappij circulerende visies op gender, ras en seksuele geaardheid. Een nieuw geluid volgt de spectaculaire geboorte van de moderne poëzie in Nederland van dichtbij en levert een verrassende manier van (literatuur)geschiedschrijving. Wiljan van den Akker (1954) studeerde Nederlands aan de Universiteit Utrecht. Hij promoveerde in 1985 op een proefschrift over M. Nijhoff. In 1986 werd hij uitgenodigd de leerstoel moderne Nederlandse letterkunde aan de UU te bekleden. Hij verrichtte diverse bestuurlijke taken, ook buiten de UU. Sinds 2006 publiceert hij ook fictie: twee dichtbundels (de eerste kreeg de C. Buddingh'-prijs), korte verhalen, een roman (met Esther Jansma) en vertalingen van poëzie van Charles Simic en samen met Esther Jansma werk van Mark Strand. Gillis Dorleijn (1951) was hoogleraar moderne Nederlandse letterkunde te Groningen. Hij publiceerde over poëzie (onder meer Leopold, Nijhoff, Faverey), poëzie en muziek (Lucebert en jazz), literatuuropvattingen in institutionele context (samen met Kees van Rees, met wie hij een gelijknamig NWO-programma leidde) en over de functie van literatuur (samen met Dirk De Geest en Pieter Verstraeten). Hij stelde edities samen (Nijhoff, Du Perron) en was voorts coauteur van een veelgebruikt handboek, Literair mechaniek. Naast zijn academisch werk was hij lid van jury's en besturen in de literaire wereld.
